JOHN SEIGENTHALER FOUNDED the First Amendment Center in 1991 with the mission of creating national discussion, dialogue and debate about First Amendment rights and values. (See www.firstamendmentcenter.org.)

Seigenthaler was founding editorial director of USA TODAY. He was formerly editor, publisher and CEO of The [Nashville] Tennessean. He also served as president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Seigenthaler served as administrative assistant to Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy in the 1960s. During the Freedom Rides in Alabama, he was attacked by a mob of Ku Klux Klansmen and hospitalized. He is also a senior advisory trustee of the Freedom Forum. (See www.freedomforum.org.)
